DETAILED ACTIONResponse to Arguments

Applicant's arguments filed 31 October 2005 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive. Applicant amended claims 1, 7, 24, and 26 to include a limitation that the devices and server are connected via a home network. However, as discussed with regard to claims 12 and 13 in the original Office Action, home networks are old and well-known in the art (see for example the newly cited Lee et al. paragraphs 0009-0010, 0025-0027, and 0033-0034 regarding air conditioning systems being controlled via a home network system). To the extent that the system of Bash et al. is applied within a building or home environment, it would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art to link the control device and control server through an access point of the network for the purpose of providing integrated, efficient control.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

The factual inquiries set forth in Graham v. John Deere Co., 383 U.S. 1, 148 USPQ 459 (1966), that are applied for establishing a background for determining obviousness under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) are summarized as follows:

1. Determining the scope and contents of the prior art.

Art Unit: 3744

2. Ascertaining the differences between the prior art and the claims at issue.
3. Resolving the level of ordinary skill in the pertinent art.
4. Considering objective evidence present in the application indicating obviousness or nonobviousness.

Claims 1-5, 7-9, 11, 13, 14, 19, and 22-26 rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Bash et al.

The rejections of these claims as set forth in the previous Office Action are carried forward and maintained in view of the response to arguments above regarding using a home network.

Claims 6, 10, 16-18, and 27 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Bash et al. in view of Moriyama et al.

The rejections of these claims as set forth in the previous Office Action are carried forward and maintained in view of the response to arguments above regarding using a home network.

Claims 15, 20, and 21 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Bash et al. in view of Fukumura et al.

The rejections of these claims as set forth in the previous Office Action are carried forward and maintained in view of the response to arguments above regarding using a home network.

Conclusion

THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

Art Unit: 3744

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
